Girl Outwits Mystery Kidnaper Man Pretends He Is Policeman

Father Lobdell, 17-year-old Berkeley high school girl, noticed a man wearing a flu mask and wrapped in a long gray overcoat, alight from an Ashby street car at the end of the line at 11 o'clock last night and follow her up the tunnel road. When she quickened her pace, he did likewise. She started to run but he caught up with her as she neared the home of Mrs. W. H. Schraeder, 245 Tunnel Road, with whom she makes her home, and seized her by an arm.

"Don't scream," he said, "I'm a policeman." And he displayed a star-shaped badge. "You must come with me to another policeman up the street here and explain why you are out so late."

Miss Lobdell started to pull away from him and then the man in a soothing voice said:

"Now don't be scared. I'll just whistle for the other fellow to come here."

He whistled shrilly but nobody appeared.

"Well," said the man, "you'll have to come with me to the police station. I won't put the handcuffs on you if you walk along quietly."

Miss Lobdell promised and with her by his side her "police" companion started along the street. He chose the direction of the Schraeder home, and, as they passed, Miss Lobdell darted up on the porch and rang the bell. The man did not follow, but at once took to his heels. By the time the door was opened he had disappeared.

Mrs. Schraeder said today a similar occurrence had happened recently to another young girl of the neighborhood. Berkeley police said the man could not be a member of the force.

This organization has branches in all parts of the world and the scope of its work is being broadened, according to members.

Sutter Not Blamed for Auto Fatality

Aquila Sutter, accused of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Zedna Storch in an auto accident while she was riding with Sutter, was dismissed by Police Judge Smith today, no complaint having been filed. The police, after investigation of the accident, refused to file complaint, holding that Sutter could not legally be blamed for the mishap.

STATE PHONE RATES TO GO INTO COURT

The California State Railroad Commission in furtherance of its challenge of the authority of the federal government to establish long distance telephone charges in this state, has sent a telegraphic order to the sixty-five telephone companies in California, forbidding them to collect any of the charges ordered by Postmaster General Burleson where these charges are higher than the existing rates.

The companies were notified that the collection of the Burleson rates would be considered illegal by the state authorities. It was declared in a communication to the companies, "It is believed the controversy will be taken, the companies will have to pay fines of not over $200 for each offense committed."

Ninety-two percent of the Burleson rates are in excess of those allowed by the railroad commission. The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company is obeying the Burleson order, thus giving grounds for taking the controversy into the courts.

President George E. McFarland of the telephone company has been ordered to appear before the commission Saturday to explain why his company is charging rates not sanctioned by the commission.

The case is arousing great interest, particularly among public utility men, who look to see McAdoo's 25 per cent railroad rate increase up for a review by the courts.

The determination of the commission to justify its action in refusing to accept the two "air lines" toll and long distance rates was indicated in a statement issued by the commission sitting as a whole today.

This statement, a preliminary one, indicates that these new rates will show increases in approximately 44 per cent of the toll charges of California. One-fourth of one per cent will show increases and the balance, five and three-fourths per cent remain untouched.

The rate department of the commission is busily engaged in a survey of toll charges in California under the old and new wage scales and this data will be used when officials of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company appear before the commission Saturday in response to subpoenas issued yesterday.

The new air line method of figuring rates established by Postmaster General Burleson in fixed on a basis of five cents for each six miles up to 24 miles and five cents for each additional eight miles thereafter. Reduction of 50 and 75 per cent is made from these figures for evening and after midnight connections.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Postmaster General Burleson acted "without authority" in fixing the telephone rate. It was declared in a communication from the New Mexico state corporation commission, read before the House yesterday, that the rate was not when it again took up the question of extending government control of telegraphic and telephone.

Protests against Burleson's action also were embodied in communications from the Vermont public service commission, the Montana railroad commission, which insisted "upon prompt return to private control of the wire systems" and many similar bodies.

Butchers Opposed to Market Commission

The Retail Butchers' Exchange of Alameda county has declared against the State Market and Fish Exchange, terming them both impracticable and incurring unnecessary expense to the State. At a recent meeting of the exchange, a resolution was adopted calling upon the Legislature to repeal the market commission and fish exchange and setting forth as primary reasons the fact of their impracticability and unwarranted expense.

The Butchers' Exchange claims that three-fourths of the fish commission in Alameda county is distributed by them.

"I'VE NEVER SEEN THE LIKE OF IT"

Carrick Gains 16 Pounds in Less Than 30 Days by Taking Tanlac

William Carrick, for many years a resident of Tacoma, Washington, who is a citizen of Hunter, Missouri, while en route to his future home in Hunter, recently purchased a bottle of Tanlac and made a statement regarding his experience with the medicine that will be of interest to all suffering people.

"I have never seen anything," said Mr. Carrick, "like Tanlac in selling out on the Pacific Coast, around where I lived. A friend of mine actually went to the store one day to get a bottle and, knowing what I do about it now, I believe I would do the same thing. Carrick purchased two bottles of Tanlac and made a statement regarding his experience with the medicine that will be of interest to all suffering people."

"Something like a year ago my appetite went back on me and my stomach got in such a bad fix that nothing I would eat seemed to do me any good. My food would sour soon after meals and keep me belching up sour gas for hours. I suffered terrible pains above my stomach all the time and at last I dropped off twenty-seven pounds in weight and hardly had strength to raise my head, and was so nervous for almost six weeks that I hardly slept at all. I finally got down flat on my back in bed—couldn't get a bit of nourishment except a little milk—and for five weeks I thought sure I would never pull through."

BAILIFF GIVES FLU MASK TO PROSECUTOR

"Bill" Hennessey ran afoul of the majesty of the law today in police court No. 2.

Judge George Samuels has ruled that no one shall enter without a "flu mask," but Hennessey, came tripping gaily in this morning with his smiling visage unobscured.

"Good, I feel great this morning!" he remarked.

"Well, get out or get a mask!" ordered Bailiff John Fahy.

"Bill" had no mask.

The bailiff dug one out of a drawer and promptly and scurrilously decorated the embarrassed prosecutor. Then the court business went on.

Women Guilty of Violating Zone Law

Pleas of guilty were entered by the following Oakland women, charged with violating the ten-mile zone social evil proclamation before Federal Judge M. T. Dooley today. Sentences will be passed in these cases tomorrow: Nora Ryan, 574 Fifteenth street; Viola Gibson, 375 Eleventh street; Marion Scott, Eleventh and San Pablo avenue; Mary Henry, Ninth and Broadway.

DRY ORGANIZATION TO REMAIN INTACT

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Prohibition will not force anti-saloon league workers into the job hunting class with brewery employees, it was made clear here today.

In the first place, it is announced, the whole world must be dry by 1920—and the anti-saloon league will father the movement.

Then the law must be enforced in the United States before American prohibition laws can be used as arguments in other nations.

F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League, in announcing this program today, said the churches will continue to finance the work of the non-partisan anti-saloon forces.

"Our program calls for a dry world by 1920," said McBride. "Some believe it can be accomplished by 1925, but surely it can be done within ten years."

"The new work has already started. We have sent field workers to Scotland, Mexico, England and other

INSULTER OF FLAG PUTS IT ON IRON CROSS

A GERMAN HEADQUARTERS IN GERMANY, Jan. 23.—The American flag has been submitted to the ultimate in insults.

Coblenz dealers have been discovered selling watch fobs made of iron crosses on which were replicas of American flags. Army officials confiscated all these stocks and are seeking the manufacturers. One retailer has been arrested.

A widespread rumor among Germans in the occupied area that Coblenz girls who fraternized with American troops had been forced to polish soldiers' shoes in public has been traced to the fact that a German opened a shoe-shining parlor and employed girls.

countries to inaugurate the work, using methods we found so successful here. The first duty will be an educational campaign—we will literally flood the world with prohibition literature, every word of which will be printed at the anti-saloon league's own plant at Westerville, Ohio."

HOLLWEG URGES NATION LEAGUE

BERLIN, Jan. 23 (By the Associated Press).—Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, German chancellor at the outbreak of the war, has made the following statement to the Associated Press concerning peace questions:

"I am asked what constitutes a peace of justice. I answer gladly. President Wilson has announced an exalted program for the future regulations of international amity and that there shall be an arrangement similar to that which has long been the aim of the policy of all individual states. Just as a constitution guarantees to a citizen in the exercise of his fundamental rights as a human being protection against violence and freedom and integrity of person and property and honor, so that which has long been the aim of the policy of all nations shall assure to all states, great or small, those rights which are consequent upon mutual recognition and respect."

CALLS CRIME PROBLEM FOR EDUCATORS

The crime problem is not a penal or judicial problem, but an educational problem which should be met in our schools.

Thus declared Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley, one of the leading criminologists of the state in talking before members of the Rotary club today on the subject of "Crime and Its Prevention."

"Primarily the crime problem is not a police but a school responsibility," said the Berkeley chief. "An ounce of prevention is worth a ton of reformation."

BEGIN IN SCHOOLS

The place to begin is in the schools. There are certain neurological and psychological symptoms which are easily recognizable by experts in the early formative periods of a child's life. These defects when recognized assist the medical and psychological experts in forming an opinion as to which direction the child shall be guided. Such early precautionary measures will save many a boy and girl from an acquaintance with police courts later in their lives."

Chief Vollmer declared that psychological clinics should be maintained in the schools, where the weak could be separated from the strong and given special attention

SEES HUSBAND IN FILM AFTER YEAR IN RUSSIA

BERKELEY, Jan. 23.—To see her husband for the first time in more than a year on the screen of a well-known Oakland motion picture house was the unique sensation enjoyed last night by Mrs. David L. Barrows, wife of Colonel Barrows, U. S. A. former dean of the faculties at the University of California.

Mrs. Barrows with members of her family, were witnessing a film of allied activities in Siberia, when her husband's picture came into view. Colonel Barrows was shown with the staff of General Graves, commander-in-chief of the American forces in Siberia.

Last night's glimpse of her husband was the first Mrs. Barrows has had since she left him in the Philippines, when he was assigned to duty in Siberia. According to fragmentary news received from Colonel Barrows, he has been sent 600 miles inland in Siberia to China to rather information for the allied governments concerning the condition of General Semenov and his Russian troops.

As China is out of the usual lines of communication no word has come to his family from him since the activities of the Berkeleyan.

To guide them along proper paths. "An examination of our penal institutions will show the large number of persons whose criminal careers may be directly traced to the fact that their abnormalities were not given proper attention in the early years of their life," says the chief. "Toward meeting this situation, Chief Vollmer declared the entire community should be awakened to the problems confronting it."

"It is not a question for a few to solve, but a problem which the entire public should aid," he said. "It is an economical problem as well as a constructive one for funds spent in prevention will save many more dollars in correction in after years."

PAY HELD UP; JOBS LOST IN LAW BLUNDER

Legal complications surrounding the new police and firemen's pay amendments were threshed out today at a conference between City Attorney H. L. Hagan and representatives of City Auditor Fred Leister and Commissioner F. F. Morse.

As a result of the meeting it was learned that, through errors in the amendment, the jail matrons are probably to be out of jobs, some forty substitute firemen will in all probability be unable to collect their pay, and a number of substitute policemen will be in the same predicament.

The newly-appointed policemen, Miss Myrtle Beggs and Mrs. Alma Mortimer, will be able to hold office under the rank of patrolman, the city attorney ruling that a woman can fill the position of patrolman just as a woman fills the standing of assemblyman. He had several precedents on this point.

REGULATE POSITIONS LEGAL

All regular positions in the police department would be held legal in a court of law, Hagan said, despite the apparent technicality that would indicate that these were automatically abolished.

"The fact that the various grades of policemen are enumerated," Hagan, "would be presumed in law to indicate that any men holding such positions were legally in office, despite the failure of the men who drew up the law to put in a safeguarding clause. But the fact that they included a clause, that no other positions save those enumerated be filled will probably out the matrons and the substitute policemen drawing pay."

The jail matrons are Mrs. Gella Baxter, Mrs. J. Sanders, Miss E. B. Underwood and Mrs. J. Hayes. They have worn police badges, but have been listed as matrons under civil service. They cannot be re-listed as patrolmen, as the charter provides that no one over 35 years

NEW COPETTE SHUDDERS AT PRIZE FIGHT

Miss Myrtle Beggs, new policeman, got her first taste of actual experience in police work last night. She saw a prize fight.

Chief Nedderman and the prize fight took her to the local bawls and watched with under the rank of patrolman, the city attorney ruling that a woman can fill the position of patrolman just as a woman fills the standing of assemblyman. He had several precedents on this point.

FLU SUBSIDES IN OAKLAND AND S. F.

During the last few days the number of influenza patients has shown a gradual but steady decrease. For the 24 hours ending last night there were but 33 new cases and 5 deaths. Up to 10 a. m. today there were but 3 deaths and 15 new cases.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—This morning's announcement of yesterday's influenza figures showed continued decrease in the epidemic, evidently due to mask wearing. One hundred and sixty-four new cases and 15 deaths were yesterday's total. Less than a week ago more than 500 cases were reported daily.

Bids Received for Repainting Signs

Final adoption of the ordinance appropriating $25,000 expenses of the coming elections, May 6 and April 15, was voted today by the city council. Bids were received for completing the painting of the signs, which are to be painted in a uniform yellow. These were referred to the city attorney for a legal report.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

Hurry, Mother, Remove Poisons From Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at Once if Bilious, or Constipated.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, bad, has stomach ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the four conditions, waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine ask to see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often three symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such trouble.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Piquette, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Oakland Daily Tribune.—Advertisement.

Hotel Men Boost State Advertising

Oakland and San Francisco hotel men are in Sacramento today to ask the state legislature for an appropriation of $100,000 to be devoted to advertising the state and attractions of California in all parts of the United States. Among those who left for Sacramento this morning were Henry Barker, of the Continental Hotel, San Francisco, chairman of the executive committee of the association and manager of the Hotel Oakland; Thomas T. Kent, assistant manager of the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco, and John S. Mitchell, who is identified with the Palace, Fairmont and other hotels across the bay.

Dead Letter Office Down One Flight

With a view to widening the scope of his plan to facilitate the handling of letters at the local post office, Joseph J. Rosborough has transferred the dead letter or forwarding division from upstairs to the ground floor of the building, so it will be under the immediate supervision of the mailman, division to which it properly belongs. The directory division has also been removed from the second floor to mailing division. As a result of these changes much duplication of work will be eliminated, according to the postmaster.

Will Deport Harms When Term Is Ended

A cancellation of the naturalization papers issued April 17, 1917, to Alfred Harms, former art teacher and janitor in the University of California, now under a six months' sentence in the county jail for a violation of the Jackson anti-sedition ordinance, was obtained by Assistant U. S. Attorney John Hagan today. Upon his release Harms will leave for his native land and be sent to an alien internment camp at Port Douglas, Utah. There await deportation to Germany.

DELAY ASKED ON LEASE REVOCATION

A second request from the United States Railroad Administration, asking that the old council resolution, revoking the franchise granted the Western Pacific for a five hundred acre strip adjacent to their pier, be held up while the government considers the road, was received today from Special Counsel E. H. Hagan and Guy W. Shoup, representing the government.

The land was in the original Western Pacific franchise, and was reclaimed by the city when the railroad failed to build improvements agreed on within the time limit set. The actual revocation, however, came after the government took charge of the pier and it is understood railroad administration officials fear that, the government being liable for losses incurred by roads while under federal direction, this may mean that claim could be made against the United States Treasury on the ground of the franchise revocation, even though the grounds were prior to the government taking over the pier.

The matter was referred to City Attorney H. L. Hagan to look up the legal phases, on the suggestion of Commissioners Fred Soderberg and W. H. Edwards.

"I am ready to vote now," commented Mayor Davis, "having been requested by the city council to do so several months ago to take this action. But Soderberg and Edwards are so afraid that the city may lose this land that they held up the government's request."

Soderberg and Edwards say that they desire assurance only on the legality of the revocation plan. A report will be made by Hagan probably next week.

Jackson Suffers Flu Complication

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises, who are given to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home with experience in newspaper advertising. Many instances have effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly heard at a distance of eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrh, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of nothing more than a cure from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parment (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parment is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess in secretion in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.—Advertisement.

MOVIE ACTRESSES AND THEIR HAIR

Did it ever occur to you that every movie actress you have seen has lovely hair while the most popular count their curls as their chief beauty? In fact, many are leading ladies just because of their attractive hair. Inquiry among them discloses the fact that they bring out all the natural beauty of their hair by careful shampooing, not with any soap or makeshift, but with a mixture of pure olive oil and castor oil, which they get from the druggist in a cup of hot water and applying this instead of soap. This full cup of shampoo liquid is enough to make it easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use, the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. The hair is so fluffy that it looks much heavier than it is, its luster and softness are delightful.—Advertisement.

Hotel Men Boost State Advertising

Oakland and San Francisco hotel men are in Sacramento today to ask the state legislature for an appropriation of $100,000 to be devoted to advertising the state and attractions of California in all parts of the United States. # Don't blame the dealer for the shortage of Victor products — the Government needed us!

To the thousands of people who have been temporarily inconvenienced through their inability to get the Victrola and Victor Records they wanted; to Victor dealers everywhere who in the face of this extreme shortage stood loyally by us and steadfastly refused to offer inferior substitutes, we feel that an explanation is due for this scarcity of Victor products.

Upon the entrance of the United States into the great world war, the Victor Company immediately decided to do its utmost in making war materials. It voluntarily offered its entire plant whole-heartedly to the Government, regardless of the fact that its regular production would be seriously curtailed, regardless of the setback which would temporarily result to the business it took years to build up, regardless of the profits which would necessarily be sacrificed.

It would have been possible to hold off—to keep right on with our regular work and let others do war work. But the Victor Company is a thoroughly American concern, and it does things in the big characteristic American way. It chose to help the Government to the very limit of its resources.

The Government recognized the high state of perfection and thoroughly modern equipment of the gigantic Victor factories, and made more and more use of them until as much as 90% of the plant was at one time engaged in war work. If it were possible to disclose Government secrets and tell of the scientific experiments which were conducted and of the devices and products which were manufactured, the public would appreciate what a valuable help the Victor plant was to the Government in winning the war.

Those parts of the Victor factories which continued to produce Victrolas and Victor Records could not, of course, supply even a reasonable amount of Victor products to the public. And the shortage was made even more pronounced because thousands of Victrolas and still more thousands of Victor Records were diverted to the use of America's fighting forces on land and sea—to entertaining and inspiring them, as well as to teaching them French and wireless telegraphy through the Victor special study courses.

Great though the sacrifices were which the Victor Company willingly made to help its country in its hour of need, we would not have it otherwise. And though the inability to get Victor products was exasperating to the public, we do not believe they would have had us shirk our duty. We count it an honor that we were able to serve our country. We are gratified that the Government found our factories of such value.

And with the coming of peace, we recognize the great task that devolves upon us. It is imperative that we supply as quickly as possible those people who rather than accept inferior substitutes, decided to wait patiently until they could get the genuine Victor products they wanted. Added to this there is the increased demand that will come from new sources, for thousands of our returning heroes have learned to appreciate what the Victrola means in their daily lives. The demand upon our resources will be greater than ever, but we return to our chosen work with full confidence in our ability to meet the needs of the future.

So while the Victor plant did its full share in helping to win the war, it is now again bending its energies to supplying the musical needs of the nation—of the whole world. From a gigantic bee-hive of war-time activities, the Victor plant again resumes as the greatest musical industry in the entire world.

Tales of Home Town
by GBB

THE OLD SOLDIER.
Long before the war Home Town knew nothing about the Prussian temperament through acquaintance with old "Daddy" Hohen, on Franklin Street. He had been a soldier in the Franco-Prussian war, and a member of the Army of Occupation left behind by Bismarck and von Moltke in France until that land should pay off its war indemnity. His favorite story was of the fine champagne upon which the Prussian soldier lived while in France. Apparently his sole article of diet had been champagne.

Yet everybody said he wasn't such a bad fellow, but had a good heart. And he himself used to say that it was the officers who made the Prussian soldier hard men and cruel at times.

"We were not bad men," he would say, "we had children—kind—at home. And we would not hurt anything, certainly not a child, if they let us alone. But these officers, well, now I tell you they are overbearing. They have hard hearts. How they would drive a man, ach yes."

THEY WERE SYMPATHIZERS.
And he would shake his head and suck on the long stem of his pipe and reach for his stein of beer. Cronies who would be sitting around him in his son's tailor shop out in the back yard behind the house would shake their heads in sympathetic understanding. Several of them, too, had been German soldiers, although none so signally honored as "Daddy" Hohen, and they knew about Prussian officers.

But like the Prussian officers of his tales, "Daddy" Hohen had a temper, too. His grandson, commonly known as "Fatty," knew all about it. Fatty was one of those mischievous youngsters who couldn't let well enough alone, and consequently took many an occasion to stir the old man to anger. Sometimes Fatty's mother interfered, but for the most part, poor woman, she was so busy baking and cooking and sewing and darning and housekeeping in general for her father, her husband and her seven offspring that she had little time to act as peacemaker between Daddy and Fatty.

FAT IS MYSTERIOUS.
One Fourth of July Fatty sneaked into the old man's room and busied himself mysteriously and then hung around expectantly until "Daddy" Hohen came out in his old Prussian blue with his old rifle over his shoulder. It was his custom to put on the uniform on the Fourth of July and march up and down on a lonesome sentry in the backyard. He would keep this up for a half hour, then shoot off a blank shell and go into the house, put the rifle away, take off the uniform, and sit out on the front porch the rest of the day with his stocking feet on the rail and his old porcelain pipe in his mouth. People said he was a little touched in the head.

As he started off up the worn bricks of the backyard walk on his annual half hour sentry, Fatty crept out from behind the rain barrel with a smoking piece of punk in his hand. He got up close behind Daddy Hohen without the old man sensing his approach. A little piece of string, apparently, hung out of the old man and he let the lighted punk to the piece of string. Then he ran.

BALLS OF FIRE.
A few moments later the rifle began to spout balls of fire with a whizz and a pop between each, and the old man almost dropped his precious weapon in amazement. Fatty had crammed a roman candle into the wide old-fashioned barrel with a bit of fuse left protruding. At the sound of the fireworks Fatty's mother, who herself was quite stout, and his skinny little father—the tailor—with his waxed mustaches, and two or three of the children, came out on the back porch. They laughed and the old man began to rage.

Suddenly he made a dart for Fatty with the old rifle, its bayonet affixed, held at the charge. Fatty had retreated to the rain barrel and was leaning against it, laughing immoderately. He seemed to shake like a small sack of meal stirred by some unexpected animation. As he saw the old man coming he became as if paralyzed with fear. He could not move. His cheek blanched. There he stood, waiting to be transfixed. His mother screamed, and his father leaped from the porch and made for Daddy. But he could not reach him in time to stop him from bayoneting the boy. That was apparent.

FAT GETS BUSY.
Just as the bayonet was almost against his breastbone, Fatty suddenly became paralyzed into action and

Winifred Black FOLKS AND THINGS

Winifred Black
The Free Union isn't a free union any more and it's gone to smash—absolutely and irrevocably to smash.

What is a Free Union? You never heard of one? It's plain to be seen you don't live in Greenwich Village and you never had any one call you Comrade, and what you don't know about wearing your hair bobbed and smoking cigarettes from soup to cheese all the evening afterward, would fill a large and enthusiastic book.

"Free Unions" are very fashionable in Greenwich Village. When a girl meets a man she likes she doesn't marry him down there—not always. She just tells her friends that she and Edward or John Henry or whatever his name may be are affiliates. They can tell it by the stars, they know it the first time they meet. Something electric in the atmosphere, don't you know. Why, even the waiter noticed it. You could see he was interested by the way he spilled the chart and forgot to bring the cheese for the Roman soup. And just think of it, they both love the same kind of French pastry and they both dote on Russian literature and believe in the Brotherhood of Man and the Sisterhood of Woman and so they're going to have a Free Union and live together in the quaintest, smelliest, crummiest, darkest old hole in the corner in the whole village. And when they pass in and out of the cafe those dining there will nudge each other and say "Another Free Union," and it is ever so romantic and picturesque and interesting—while it lasts.

This particular Free Union has lasted quite a while and the man is still devoted. But the woman feels fettered—she likes to tell her friends about it and shake her wrists as if she could hear the clank of chains—she longs for freedom, and of course John Henry, or whatever his name is, will have to let her go.

There are children—oh, yes, two of them. Poor little innocent things with thin hair and chronic sniffles, who look as if they'd sat up late and breathed cigarette smoke every night of their lives since they were born.

It is a good deal of a nuisance about them. The woman feels that New York see the new man isn't fond of children—he says they are too primitive, always crying at the right time and wanting to be put to bed when there is something jolly on at one of the little theaters.

And so the woman is quite tragic about it. She hates to give them up, but what can she do?

Love—she's fond of children and she might consent for their sake, don't you know, and as an experiment in soul study, don't you see?

But here's the puzzling part of it all. The village doesn't approve of the arrangement.

Free Unions must be respected, says the village, and if you wander in and out of them like that why they're no more than marriage, and everyone knows what that is.

And so the woman finds people turning away from her when she gets to telling how fettered she feels and she can't understand it for the life of her. And to tell the truth, neither can I.

Can you?

What's the use of a Free Union if it isn't going to be free?

And if you're going to hold people to old-fashioned ideas of duty and honor and self-respect and natural love—why, where are you?

How bound they are, those poor slaves of Freedom, after all—tied and double tied, by their own folly, their own selfishness and their own weak and cunning cruelty.

For he that laughs at honor will sooner or later feel the whip of dishonor as sure as he lives and breathes.

THE REALLY HOMESICK

A Notable Cartoon From "The Stars and Stripes," Official Newspaper of U. S. Forces in France

George Kaufman, civil service commissioner, is an expert auto helper, assembler and mechanic. What he doesn't know about the interior anatomy of an auto you could put on a postage stamp in your boldest handwriting. He admits it himself.

His confession came about this way. The auto mechanics employed by the city were before the Civil Service Commission looking for more pay. Mechanic Kaufman chased them all over and under every auto you ever heard about, discussing in technical terms all the chunks, sections and pieces of an auto that cause trouble and expense.

Mechanic Kaufman went further. He said that he repaired his own auto. He did the rough and tumble or fancy work with equal ease. As for putting in a new clutch—there was nothing to it. You took the clutch and dropped it in. Just like that. Naturally there was a slight operation first to remove the old clutch and a bit of surgical skill required afterward to adjust the new.

Refitting brakes was too simple. A hammer—any old hammer—and a few copper rivets—or was it brass tacks?—were all that was necessary. Of course one had to have sufficient mechanical knowledge to operate a hammer. But the rest was easy.

SOLOMON'S DECISION IN CASE OF VACATION.

"H-mm-mm," that was the way George Kaufman, civil service commissioner, enlightened the civil service board and all concerned when an employee of the city library asked for thirty days leave "in which to get well."

Then he explained further, thusly:

"It's a state of mind; nothing else. If you give him two weeks, he'll be well in ten days; if you give him thirty days, he'll be sick for forty."

The board, looking on this as a joke, asked for thirty days leave "in which to get well."

"Are you sure you're all right?" Mrs. Durkee's soft voice uttered the words anxiously, and her motherly hands patted me solicitously, as if to assure herself by actual touch that I was indeed fully recovered from my sudden faint.

"Absolutely," I returned with decision. "It always uses me up to stop, and the air down there was simply vile. I was perfectly ridiculous of me to faint, however. I can't see how I came to do it."

"The nurse said she thought you'd had a shock," Mrs. Durkee returned, glancing at me curiously. "We were walking away from the rest room after thanking and rewarding the nurse, and I was glad she was not within earshot. I am afraid that knowing her understanding of the storm of grief through which I had just passed I could never have carried off the nonchalant impression of things I gave my little neighbors."

"Not unless the shock of losing my hat caused me to faint," I said with a lightness of which I was justly proud under the circumstances.

"Losing your hat? What hat? Are you crazy?" she demanded.

"Then I realized that she knew nothing of my second trip to the millinery department, and that it would have been much wiser not to have spoken of it. I had answered her at random with the first thing that flashed into my mind, but I knew, of course, that I must explain."

"Why, to tell you the truth, I meant to surprise you by purchasing that blue hat after all," I said. "So when you went down after your son's pajamas I hurried to the millinery department after the hat, only to find that it had been sold. I suppose hurrying so fast ability for me until I thought I should skirt along from sheer nervousness.

"What shall we do now?" she asked, when the possibilities of conversation about my lost chapeau had been exhausted. Do you feel strong enough to go over to that loan exhibition of pictures before we telephone the boys? Or will staying down for dinner be too much for you?"

"I'm sure I shall be perfectly able to go through with it all," I said steadily. "Indeed, I am quite looking forward to that dinner with Dicky and your son."

I spoke nothing but the truth. For the thing I had resolved to do was to meet Dicky at dinner as if nothing had happened, and to relate as casually as possible our adventures of the afternoon at Hamburg's, of course, omitting any reference to seeing him.

But from my description of the departments, and my reference to the time I was there, I knew he could not help realizing that I had seen him, especially as I was certain Mrs. Durkee would supplement my description with the story of my sudden faint.

I wanted very much to watch Dicky's face when he should grasp the situation. (To Be Continued)

SOLONS' BODY WILL AID ALL ENLISTED MEN

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—The Senate passed a bill today creating a committee of nine to handle the task of providing returning soldiers, sailors and marines with employment upon their discharge from federal service. There was no opposition.

The Senate finance committee voted last night to report favorably the administration bill creating a "soldiers' employment and readjustment committee" to take over the activities of the state council of defense and to assume the task of providing employment for national service men.

The vote was unanimous and was taken after two hours of debate, which centered largely around the question of the size of the committee and the authority with which it would be vested to carry on the work.

Senator Benson, who introduced the bill, said it was the purpose of the bill to have a committee appointed which would arouse the citizens of the state to the need of providing employment for the men discharged from the army and navy. He said there was an immediate need for such a committee to make provision for the returning fighting men.

He said it was intended that the committee should utilize community councils formed to supplant county councils of defense and other bodies in the work.

The bill would virtually transfer the work of the soldiers' and sailors' placement committee of the state council of defense to the new committee, which would be authorized to assist returning soldiers, sailors and marines to obtain readjustment in their former positions or to find new employment. One of the objects of the committee would be to carry on a campaign to stimulate industry in order to create a greater demand for skilled and unskilled labor and for clerical and technical workers, according to Benson.

The bill carries an appropriation of $50,000 to pay the necessary expenses of the committee, but the members would be required to serve without pay.

Governor Stephens discussed the bill at a conference with C. G. Moore, director of the state council of defense; J. S. Mitchell, a member of the defense council; Senator

BILL PROVIDES ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—Measures providing for the enforcement of prohibition in California when the national dry amendment becomes effective were introduced today by Senator Harris.

One measure makes transportation, sale and distribution of intoxicating liquor unlawful and prevents persons having it in possession, whether in aeroplanes or on ground.

Manufacture of alcohol for medicinal purposes and use of wine for sacramental purposes would be made lawful through permits to be issued by the attorney-general of the state.

Violations of the law by persons holding permits would be punishable by a maximum fine of $1,000 for the first offense and $2,000 and six months' imprisonment for the second. Other persons violating the law would be subject to a maximum fine of $500 for the first offense and $1,000 and six months' imprisonment for the second.

A second bill creates the office of special assistant, attaching to the attorney-general, to make provision to enforce provisions of the act.

Steamers Raided by Custom Inspectors

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Custom inspectors made two additional raids on the steamers Colusa and Chinyo Maru today, seizing 65 all-glass bottles of opium valued at $5,000 and arresting James Sager, a member of the crew. On the Sinyo 600 bottles of "tochui" or opium water, valued at $10,000 was seized. Two Chinese stowaway passengers are being held.

Benson and others urged its immediate passage. He said it was the duty of the state to make provision for the men returning from the national service and to see that they are provided with employment.

Another measure relating to reconstruction problems was adopted in the Assembly. It was in the form of a resolution by Broughton providing for the creation of a joint committee of both houses to investigate conditions of unemployment in the state, particularly with reference to those being released from the army and navy.

In advocating adoption of the resolution Assemblyman Bennett said there were 10,000 service men in the San Francisco bay district who were without employment.

"Great Britain was considering problems of reconstruction before peace came," Bennett said, "and we should have done the same instead of waiting until it was virtually forced upon us."

FINAL RUSH TO PRESENT BILLS IS ON

BULLETIN.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—Assemblyman Gray today introduced a bill to grant to Oakland the entire waterfront along the Oakland estuary. Gray said this would take in a strip of land extending where the state turned over the Oakland harbor to the city.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—Senate. The final rush to present bills before the Senate today. More than 100 bills were introduced at the morning session.

Senator W. J. Carr introduced a bill to reduce the salaries of members of the State Water Commission from three to one.

An amendment to the Act of March 9, 1897, relating to the voting of bonds by the electorate for the purpose of paying judgment against the municipality for deaths and injury of a large number of persons several years ago, when a pleasure pier collapsed during a "British Empire Day" celebration.

Gates introduced a state realty license law revised to eliminate the feature of the law passed two years ago, which the State Supreme court declared unconstitutional last March.

Provision for re-establishing the National Guard of California was made in a bill introduced by Scott. It provides that former members who were discharged to permit them to enter the federal service at the outbreak of the war may return to their former organizations within 90 days after they receive their federal discharges.

Jones introduced a bill appropriating $15,000 for experimental work in disinfecting nursery stock and for the construction of a vacuum fumigator for experimental work.

April 30 would be made a State holiday, known as "Health Day," under the terms of a bill by Crowley. The day would be observed by activities to better the health and sanitary conditions of the various communities.

A bill providing for the assessment of capital stock of State Banks to establish a depositors' guarantee fund was introduced by Slater and Evans.

Senator Hart said he would introduce a measure tomorrow to repeal the law establishing the length of sheets which may be used on beds in hotels and lodging houses.

BUTTER PRICE SLIPS DOWN 4 CENTS MORE

Somebody stepped on the butter today and prices skidded to another fall. A drop of four cents a pound wholesale on the local market and of five cents a pound on the Chicago market marked a total decrease of 15 cents a pound in less than two weeks.

At that very little trading was done here while Chicago advises state the market there was not merely demoralized but paralyzed with demand both foreign and domestic at the zero point.

Stoppage of government and foreign buying as a result of cheap supplies abroad, especially from Australia and South America, started the decline. Excessive high prices in the domestic trade did the rest. Many retailers were said to be overstocked with high-priced butter and facing sharp losses owing to the present scanty supply and the piling up of the wholesale supply.

BLACK STARS ON SERVICE FLAG URGED

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—Every individual or firm displaying a service flag would be required to place upon such flag "a black star for every returned soldier or sailor formerly employed who has been refused employment," under the terms of a resolution introduced today by Assemblyman Doran.

Senator Brown said he would present to the senate today resolutions adopted by the Bay Cities Fish committee urging the repeal of the state market act and the state fish exchange act.

A bill has been introduced in the assembly to repeal the state market act. It was expected the action would re-open the fight made two years ago by Senator Brown on Harris Weinstein, state market director.

Woman Held to Face Opium Selling Charge

Grace Everett, accused of smuggling morphine into the county jail to her husband, Frank Everett, awaiting trial on a burglary charge, was held for trial in the Superior Court today by Police Judge George Samuels.

Mrs. Frances White, matron at the jail, testified that the accused woman offered a package said to contain a pound of coffee to be sent to her husband and that in it was found morphine. This was corroborated by two jailers on duty in the jail and analysis of the contents of the package made by Miss Ruth A. Forsyth, a chemistry teacher in the Technical high school, under supervision of Dr. E. P. Jones, city bacteriologist.

Mrs. Everett was returned to prison in lieu of $2000 bail.

"O, Mickie is the powerful grace that lies

Doth not lurk within the wine when it is red? Is the cup which you quaff overflowing with the devil's own brew? Tonight there is to be spread, by the grace of Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state, the "legislative feast of the state" has come upon this balliwick since California was placed on a malted milk diet. There has been coaxed from his habitat in San Francisco, the Hotel St. Francis, a chef who will prepare the ducks and other choice viands for the spread.

WINE TO FLOW.
Wine is to flow, long and often. "With balfew weeds and precious-juiced flowers" the assembled solons, distinguished lobbyists, publicists and Pharisees will sit themselves down at the banquet board. The air will be filled with music and merriment of a kind not yet provided for in the by-law of national amendment to the constitution with floating veils and a pichitude to make the most blasé gasp, are on the evening's program.

At best it will be left to Jordan to remind the recently converted dries that what they have done has banished conviviality from California's midst. It has been their mission "this day to cheer and night's dank dew to dry."

ELABORATE PREPARATION.
The All-American cafe was the scene of high preparations. The guests are coming in hundreds, which means that every "good-soup," wet or dry, will be welcomed. The birds are brought down by a hunting squad led by Jordan himself. The Ecovivace has been imported from Oregon. The Gallic applies will breathe the soul of Celtic freedom.

The menu issued this morning does credit to the committee of arrangements. P. A. Dougherty, butler, James Ryan and Frank C. Jordan, but there is a long list of acknowledgments to those who have helped put on the show.

Since the two really ushers in the period of drought which is shortly to descend upon this fair land Jordan may well exclaim in the words of Juliet:

"It is too rash, too unadvised, too sudden; Ere one can say, 'It lightens,' Sweet, goodnight!"

Pleads for Letters of Indicted Son

Mrs. Pashal A. Coggins, widow of an Oakland attorney, and mother of Curtis, Coggins, who is being held by a military courtmartial for evasion of the draft and an attempt to commit suicide after he had been indicted into the service, appeared before Federal Judge M. T. Ewing today and obtained an order for the return of certain letters written by the boy while in the county jail here just before he attempted to take his life. An indictment against young Coggins is being held in the United States Attorney's office pending disposition of his case by the military authorities upon which he will be tried later.

One look at Wong King, who is familiar to Police Judge Samuels through other trials, was enough today. Wong didn't even have to plead.

Wong was arrested on a lottery charge. When he appeared in court Samuels gave one look. "Wong King, $150 or fifty days in jail," he snapped.

This was the shortest trial held in months in the local police court.

Charges Waste in State Motor Dept. Carter Asks For Investigation

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—(By Associated Press).—Charging "large waste in the cost of operating" the state motor vehicle department, Assemblyman Carter has introduced a resolution calling upon the governor to cause an investigation to be made during the constitutional recess of the legislature into the affairs of the department.

Carter failed to obtain support from the house in an attempt to bring the matter up for immediate consideration. Speaker Wright referred the resolution to the motor vehicles committee, and at Carter's request sent it as a rush order to the printer so it might be voted upon tomorrow. Carter said the department spent 12.7 per cent of the amount it collected in license fees.

Assemblyman Prendergast's resolution, providing for an investigation of the high cost of breadstuffs, was adopted by the Assembly without dissent.

"Ralph Merritt, federal food administrator for California, stated some time ago the price of bread would be reduced," said Prendergast. "Soon afterward he went to Washington. His departure has done nothing to bring down the price of bread, and he will do nothing until the legislature acts."

"Imitation milk" must be plainly labeled as such under the terms of a bill offered today by Assemblyman Martin. Martin said such milk is being manufactured from skim milk and coconut oil and his bill would prohibit its sale as ordinary dairy milk.

Assemblyman Windrem's resolution, asking the federal government to use its influence toward the formation of a league of nations and limitation of armaments, was amended to eliminate reference to President Wilson's advocacy of the plan and put over until tomorrow for final action.

PASS DELAYED.
Attempts to pass an emergency measure at the first half of the legislative session a bill to appropriate $300,000 of state funds to finance further work on the east levee of the Sutter by-pass in Sutter county, was threatened with failure when the Senate drainage, swamp and overflowed lands committee voted to consider the subject at another meeting.

The bill was passed by the Assembly and sent to the Senate. In the discussion in the Senate committee several members urged more time for consideration, and on motion by Senator Duncan the committee voted four to two to postpone further action until today. In order to have the bill considered in the Senate before the recess it would be necessary to have the constitution suspended. This requires 27 votes.

A bill to create an emergency fund of $50,000 to be used by the state

FORM HOME INSURANCE IS BILL'S OBJECT

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 23.—Establishment of a State "farm home insurance fund" was proposed in a skeleton bill prepared by Assemblyman Polesley today. The measure is designed to assist capable men without funds to buy farms under the State Land Settlement plan. The plan outlined by Professor Elwood Mead of the University of California and now before the legislature states that men taking up land in State colonies must invest $1500. Polesley's bill provides that men may take up such land without investing money and upon a small payment into a revolving fund obtain insurance against loss of crops which might prevent them from paying out on their homes.

GOMPERS IS WORKING FOR HIGHER WAGE

BY UNITED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(Highest wages in Europe to keep up high wages in this country and to keep out of the hands of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, now it circles here today.

Realizing that the products of cheap labor in Europe have been flooding the American market will force wages down probably despite tariff, Gompers hopes to prevent this by forcing American labor through the international trades union, which he is now endeavoring to organize, to pressure the government to hold a conference on labor questions.

His plans to make the international trades union a permanent organization, Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, said today. Its aim will be to better the conditions of working men in all parts of the world, he said.

FOR HIGH STANDARD.

"I believe the first step of such an organization will be to set the American standard of labor at the level of Europe," he added. "The war has put the civilized world much closer together and labor conditions in one part of the world are certain to re-pull down the higher standards and this is what it is hoped to counteract."

Morrison said the aim of Gompers in organizing the international union was much broader than simply to keep up wages in this country.

WOULD BETTER CONDITIONS.

"If the people of Europe are to be heeded as a result of the war, it is certain that one of the first things to do is to improve their labor conditions," he said, "and the international union would work toward that end."

The International union Gompers is organizing will be kept aloof from the radical Socialist and Bolshevik influence, Morrison stated. "This is why the American labor delegates refuse to join the Bern conference, Switzerland, conference backed by Arthur Henderson, the British leader, who plans to admit the Bolsheviks," he asserted.

"It is because the Bern conference will not truly represent the people that

The American federation will not join. Morrison said.

Herring Packing to Be Given Impetus

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 23.—Alaska's new herring packing industry, begun during the war, will be given a thorough system of inspection and supervision by the inclusion of $25,000 apiece in the order of the federal government.

proportion of the catch, according to a dispatch from Washington received here by Henry C. Malley, of the Oregonian. Malley said the Bureau of fisheries, U. S. Fish Commission, is endeavoring to demonstrate to the Alaska packers and to induce the packers to comply with uniform commercial regulations. The Alaska herring industry already has grown to considerable proportions, due to the work of the United States, British and Scandinavian packers from their markets.

S. W. McClure, secretary of the National Wool Growers' Association, was left here for Washington, D. C., and will return to Denver tomorrow. He was moved to persuade the government to sacrifice its entire wool stock. Such action, Dr. McClure said, would mean utter disaster to the wool growers.

To throw the wool now in government hands on the market would so lower the price that wool growers would lose the use of their own wool, according to Dr. McClure, that they would be forced to sell at a loss and would be at the mercy of speculators.

CONDITIONS.

The storm is moving southward from the north Pacific and appears to be centered over British Columbia while the area of high pressure has moved southward to the southern Rocky Mountain region. These conditions have caused rain from central California northward over the Pacific coast with fair weather in the south. The storm over the Lakes has given rain from Texas southward to the Gulf of Mexico. Southwest storm warnings are displayed from Mendocino north to Ta-

All deliveries except January touched the lowest prices yet this season, but covering by shorts led to rallies which with Chicago's local supply, the market agent all around much lower than before.

PETERSEN IS GIVEN HIGH FRENCH POST

Walter J. Petersen, former chief of police of Oakland, has been promoted from the position of American chief of police of Bordeaux to that of inspector of a battalion of the division of criminal investigation, which makes him the supervising officer of a section of the American occupation of France. The section to which he has been assigned is known as the advance section, A. E. P., which includes virtually all of the territory occupied by the American forces except the most cities. The cities included in Inspector Petersen's section are Paris, Chateau-Thierry, Verdun, Metz, Mar-selles, Rheims and Nice.

This gives Petersen charge of the most important part of France in which American troops are located and he is responsible for crime conditions in more than half of France occupied by more than a million American soldiers. Petersen reports only to the general headquarters of the department of criminal investigation, which is at Chaumont, and he has under his direction a dozen or more local commanding officers in charge of cities, as when he was American chief of police at Bordeaux.

This promotion is an important one and gives him wide powers. Whether it carries with it an increase in his rank the information does not state.

Petersen's new territory takes him right up to the German lines and if the American troops have to take Berlin it will place him in charge of that city.

According to this latest information, Petersen was on his way to Paris to make an inspection into affairs in that city. He will make a thorough inspection of every city in his district and will install a number of new local commanders in order to bring the standard up to where he wants it.

Mildred Schmidt's Betrothal Is Told

The betrothal of Miss Mildred Agnes Schmidt to Carl Frederick Volker was announced yesterday at a luncheon given at the home of the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Schmidt in Berkeley.

The bride-to-be is a charming young woman, a graduate of the Presidio convent. She has done some interesting things in art and is a clever musician. During the war she was identified with war activities on this side of the bay.

Mr. Volker, a member of a pioneer family of Oakland, is likewise a musician, of note, whose voice is often heard in his clubs—the Orpheus, the Athenian and the Bohemian.

The date for the wedding has not yet been announced.

COUPLE TO WED.

RICHMOND, Jan. 23.—Percy V. Hamm, an Oakland machinist, was taken out a marriage license to wed Miss Ella V. Frank, Richmond telephone operator.

The date for the wedding has not yet been announced.

NEIGHBORHOOD SCHOOLS WILL MAKE STUDENTS OF THE WHOLE FAMILY

Neighborhood schools, purposed for the education of children of foreign birth or parentage, are an innovation of Oakland's School Department. The picture shows one of the schools, with some of the pupils. The second woman is Agnes McFeely, principal of the Tompkins School.

Oakland's "Neighborhood schools," planned during the war, and designed not only to give service to the children of the community but to every grown man and woman too, will be ushered into existence when the influenza epidemic ends. Three such schools will start under the direction of Assistant Superintendent of Schools Lewis B. Avery, the Luzzo, Tompkins and Prescott schools. They will become "24-hour schools" to carry on the work.

A "demonstration cottage" and a series of shops have been erected at each school. The cottages, models of five-room homes, will be furnished out like an average American home. Here the girls of the community will be taught cooking, sewing, care of the home and kitchen economies, not in a class room, but in a practical house. Women of the community will also have classes there, the aim being to aid everyone who has to do with a home in the district. A special room will be set aside as a nursery in each school, that mothers may bring their babies to the care of the nursery while they study.

AIMS ARE BROAD.

"The aim of the neighborhood school," says Avery, "is to be not only to teach the young, important as that is, but to make life broader and more worth-while for every resident."

The cottage will be used for an "at home" when the women may display their handcraft, exchange lace patterns, recipes for special dishes. It will be the center for the Mothers' Club, for talks on sanitation, child welfare, politics.

The home-teacher is the "hostess-teacher" of the classes, and she will be assisted by the various special teachers of the school.

The cottage will become a center where the foreign woman will be made to feel at home in America, where she may get, first, a knowledge of English, and then an understanding of what are the American ideals of home.

"In the past, schools have reached out for every member of the family except the mother," says Avery. "The result has been a divided home. In these American-born children of the first generation, reverence and respect for authority in the home is often undeveloped unless both parents and children, are given the same opportunities.

ANSWERS EARNEST CALL.

The neighborhood school plan, according to Avery, is an answer to one of the greatest national needs—a university for the education of grown men and women, since only 50 per cent of adult citizens have completed the grammar grades. And it takes only a glance at any of Oakland's evening schools to prove there is a desire for education, for opportunity, for fellowship, for community service.

"The school is to serve the men of the community. In the evening school there are classes in English for non-English speaking citizens, classes for those who wish to perfect themselves in the part they are trying to play in the life of the community," declared Avery.

"But that is not all. The function of the school is to make citizens for the republic. Every school house should be a community capital, and every community a little democracy. This can be achieved only when the people organize themselves in a community forum, meeting in the school house for the discussion of all questions which concern their neighborhood.
